SOUTH AUSTRALIAN THOROUGHBRED RACING INDUSTRY MEDIA ACCREDITATION POLICY

Preamble

TRSA is the controlling body for thoroughbred horse racing in South Australia. The Authority regulates, represents, promotes and manages the State's thoroughbred racing industry.

In adopting this Media Accreditation Policy, TRSA acknowledges the important and valuable contribution the media makes to the thoroughbred racing industry while seeking to protect its participants and ensure its integrity. The policy is not intended to discourage members of the media to attend and participate in racing activities but to allow for proper regulation of aspects relevant to the media and racing.

Application

TRSA's Media Accreditation Policy provides guidance and advises the required criteria to obtaining a (non transferable) media pass for South Australian racecourses valid for the current racing season, which must be applied for on an annual basis.

TRSA regards the racecourse, and particularly the restricted areas, as the workplace of the participants, and seeks to ensure that a person who may be granted a media pass will fully respect the participants' workplace rights and will not by their presence or actions cause disharmony or give rise to potential conflicts or risk the integrity of racing or the wellbeing of others.

Accordingly, TRSA's determination as to whether to grant the privilege provided by a media pass is a decision made in its absolute discretion, having regard to these matters and to the following criteria. If the media pass is issued, it may be revoked or suspended by TRSA at any time, in its sole discretion.

Criteria

TRSA shall have regard to the following criteria in considering whether to issue a media pass to a person.

1. The person must, in TRSA's opinion be a fit and proper person in terms of their professionalism in the performance of their media role.
2. The person must, in TRSA's opinion not pose an unacceptable risk to the integrity of racing.
3. The person must satisfy TRSA that they will fully respect the workplace rights of participants and that neither the person's presence nor actions will cause, or will likely cause, disharmony or conflict in the workplace, diminish the well being of others, or interfere with any participant's proper performance of his or her role.

4. The person must satisfy TRSA that he or she will, and has the capacity to, fully perform their media role and in accordance with all applicable professional codes of ethics.
5. The person must satisfy TRSA that he or she will:
 - a. not allow personal interests to influence him or her in the course of their media role;
 - b. consistently adhere to the fair and objective reporting or representation of racing; and
 - c. not pursue a predetermined or biased agenda against the best interests of racing.
6. The person must at all times observe any direction or instruction issued by TRSA Management/Stewards and/or Club employees/Security Officials.

General

All media representatives and individual contractors (hereinafter referred to as “personnel”) are subject to the following:

- Before being allowed to perform their functions at any race meeting in South Australia all personnel shall be accredited in accordance with this policy.
