When questioned rider explained his instructions were to allow the gelding to balance up in the early stages, and to be mindful it has a tendency to over-race. It was noted that this shift momentarily inconvenienced JOURNEYGIRL. He added that he intended to maintain his position to the outside of PREDICTS however, near the 600 metres his mount was inclined to roll in and rolled back in behind the heels of PREDICTS and at the same time JOURNEYGIRL improved to his outside which forced him to remain in a position trailing PREDICTS for a short distance, and as a consequence was only able to improve his position in running from near the 500 metres.
