Race-goers ready to wine and dine at Kalangadoo Cup

The Penola Racing Club is again ready to wine and dine race-goers at one of its annual highlights, the Kalangadoo Cup.

Nestled in the heart of the Coonawarra region, Club President Jim May said Kalangadoo Cup was the perfect chance to experience a country race meet in style.

“This is a golden opportunity to soak up the sunshine, place a few bets and wind down over great local wine in good company,” he said.

“Penola Racing Club’s course is incredibly picturesque and this event is known for its relaxed country atmosphere and friendly people.”

With crowds in excess of 1000 in previous years, Mr May said he expected a good turn out this year having pre-sold a range of marquee packages.

Over its 31-year history, Kalangadoo has earned a solid reputation as the place to sample the finest drops from one of South Australia’s premier wine regions in the company of family and friends.

“We’ll have a range of local wines available to buy and great gourmet food to match it,” Mr May said.

“We hope locals as well as city-dwellers can join us to experience the best of Penola and the Limestone Coast and make a complete weekend of it.

“Whether you set up a picnic spot with the family or mingle in style in one of our marquees, everyone can enjoy the great scenery, exciting racing and great weather during November.”

Kalangadoo Cup is also an eligible ‘Third Time Lucky’ meet. By grabbing your free Third Time Lucky Pass at the gate on entry, you simply need to attend two more eligible events on the Limestone Coast to enter the third for free. ‘Third Time Lucky’ pass holders will also go in the draw to win great prizes including a $1000 Harbour Town shopping spree.

There are eight races throughout the day at Kalangadoo Cup starting from 12pm. Shuttle buses are available to and from Penola and the track.

Gates open at 11am with children entering free, adult General Admission at $12 per person and concession $6 per person.
